

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

same amount of care and thought they would devote to the pursuit of their own affairs.

From the date of its incorporation by Royal Charter in 1718 down to the present time, the French Hospital has been much more than an asylum or hospice for some of the poor and aged among the Huguenots and their descendants. In its earliest days it was known among the Refugees and their families as "La Providence," from the friendly counsel and varied forms of assistance which were afforded by the different Committees into which the Court of Directors was then divided. By the aid of these Committees not only were poverty, sickness, and destitution alleviated, but families which had been scattered by persecution were reunited, congregations were gathered under their old pastors, friend was restored to friend, and suitable employment was found for the immigrants and their children.

The first Governors and Directors of the Hospital were chosen from the lay and clerical Committees which had been formed of the chiefs among the immigrants to administer the fund known as the Royal Bounty, and the representative character thus given to the Institution has never been lost sight of. Throughout the records of the Corporation frequent reference is made to the fact that its Governors and Directors formed the one representative body of the English Huguenots and the Hospital the one secular memorial of the immigration, and this latter point was never more strongly or more successfully insisted on than by the Directors in the year 1875, when, after an inquiry held by the Charity Commissioners into the "foundation, endowments, and objects of the charity and its present circumstances," an opinion was expressed by the Commissioners that the new building and its appointments were on a scale of greater architectural importance than appeared to be necessary for the class of persons enjoying the asylum.

As the time approached for the celebration of the Bi-Centenary of the Revocation of the Edict of Nantes, it was instinctively felt that the Governors and Directors of the French Hospital, as the representative body of the English Huguenot descendants, should take the lead in the celebration, and accordingly services were arranged by them, and a great gathering assembled at the Hospital, where various papers were read, and a deeply interesting collection of Huguenot relics was exhibited.

It is in pursuance of these traditions—in the desire to strengthen the bond of union among all English Huguenot descendants, and to make the French Hospital the centre to which they may refer for information regarding their past history—that the Directors have during the last few years collected the special Library of which the catalogue is now printed. As yet the collection has no pretension to completeness. With few exceptions the books have been presented by the Directors and their friends, and this Catalogue is issued rather with the view of recording the aim of the Directors and the progress made towards its realization, than as a jubilant announcement of the possession of literary and artistic treasures.

The aim, then, which the Directors have in view is the formation of a special Library of works relating to the early history of the French Protestants, and of the various settlements formed in this and other countries by “the Huguenots of the Dispersion ;” of narratives of personal sufferings for the faith ; of books of Huguenot authorship ; of biographies of Huguenots and their descendants ; of genealogies ; of inedited documents ; and, in fact, of all works bearing directly or indirectly on the history of French Protestantism, French Protestants, and their descendants. It is not necessary to include purely theological works, as most complete and valuable collections of such works have been formed by the French and Dutch Churches of London. The former collection will be attached to the new French Church in Soho Square. The latter has been placed in the City Library at the Guildhall, where it may be freely consulted. In order to give completeness to their historical Library, and to enhance its usefulness and interest, the Directors propose to supplement the collection of books by parallel collections of portraits, engravings, medals, &c., with which a very satisfactory beginning has already been made.

The point of progress now reached in the formation of the Library will be clearly seen from the Catalogue. So much has already been done, that the Directors feel justified in offering to students of Huguenot history help which they believe could nowhere else be so readily obtained. So much remains to be done, that they feel equally justified in inviting the co-operation of all Huguenot descendants in perfecting the work they have begun. Pecuniary aid is not asked for, but the more valuable help of contributions of such books, records, engravings, medals, &c., &c., as come within the scope of the Library, but are not as yet to be found on its shelves, and any information or suggestions which may tend to the general usefulness of the collection.

As a last word, it may be said that the actual usefulness of such books as compose this Library is immensely enhanced by their being associated on the same shelves with contemporary works bearing on the same subject, to which immediate and easy reference can be made, so that books of little practical value when found thinly scattered among general collections, become most important members of a library specially devoted to the subject of which they treat.

The Directors desire to record their very great obligation to Mr. Reginald Stanley Faber, M.A., Honorary Secretary of the Huguenot Society of London, who has most kindly devoted much valuable time and thoughtful care to the compilation of this Catalogue; to Dr. Reginald Stuart Poole, for his ready aid in obtaining electrotype copies of a large number of medals in the British Museum illustrating French Protestant History; and to their many friends, whose generous contributions have afforded material help in the first and most difficult stage of their undertaking.

ARTHUR GIRAUD BROWNING.

PREFATORY NOTE.

WHEN the first edition of this Catalogue was printed in 1887 it was little thought that a second would be called for within so short a time as three years; but that a second edition is needed will be evident when it is mentioned that whereas the original Catalogue contained little more than five hundred entries, the present contains close upon a thousand. The former, moreover, comprised the then few volumes belonging to the Huguenot Society of London, a collection which, having also largely increased, is no longer deposited at the Hospital, and is therefore not now included in the "La Providence" Catalogue.

Not only have there been numerous accessions to the Library during the past three years (especially of tracts, many of which are of considerable rarity), but it has been entirely re-arranged on the shelves, and new press-marks have been given to every volume, as shown in the present Catalogue. The books have been grouped together, so far as exigencies of space and size allowed, in the following classes:—

- I. History.
 - i. General History of France and other countries.
 - ii. History of the Huguenots in France.
 - iii. History of the Huguenots in the United Kingdom and British possessions abroad.
 - iv. History of the Huguenots in the United States.
 - v. History of the Huguenots in other countries.
 - vi. History of the Vaudois.
- II. Biography, including Church Registers.
- III. Theology.
 - i. The Bible and parts thereof.
 - ii. Liturgies and Hymnals.
 - iii. Doctrinal and devotional works.
- IV. Transactions of Societies and Periodicals.
- V. Works of Fiction based on incidents in the History of the Reformation.
- VI. Books not falling under any of the above heads.

In the Catalogue itself the plan adopted has been that of entering the books under the Authors' names in alphabetical order, Transactions of Societies and Periodicals being entered under "Academies" and "Periodical Publications" respectively. Anonymous and pseudonymous works have been placed under their proper Authors when practicable, and cross-references given.

In the Classified Index at the end an attempt has been made to give some equivalent to a Subject Catalogue, and in this it is hoped that the section "Biography" may be found specially useful as indicating the books treating of individual Refugees and others.

Although containing several scarce and valuable works, the Library is not one rich in rarities, and bibliographers and bibliomaniacs must therefore not expect to find anything of the very highest importance recorded in these pages, though some items are of no little interest. Perhaps the most remarkable feature of the collection is the large proportion of privately-printed books and books presented by their Authors, such works being mostly on matters of family history and genealogy. The gems, as regards fine art, may be held to be the magnificent series of folio plates illustrating Sir Henry Layard's discoveries at Nineveh and Babylon, and M. Jourdan's beautiful volumes on La Rochelle. With these should be ranked, longo intervallo, "Tortorel et Perrissin," as here represented, not, unfortunately, by the original engravings, but by the modern imitation only.

The Library is intended primarily to be a good "working" collection for the student of the History of French Protestantism and of the Huguenot Refugees, and is accordingly almost purely historical and biographical, though of course it does not exclude books chiefly interesting on the score of rarity, such books being, on the contrary, doubly welcome, especially if in any way bearing upon the above-mentioned subjects. It aims, however, at the practically useful rather than the merely curious.

It has been gratifying to the writer to learn that several recent gifts to the Library were owing to the knowledge of its contents and wants derived by the donors from the former edition of the Catalogue. This has added greatly to the already great pleasure he took in compiling it, and has encouraged him in the endeavour to make the present work in every way fuller and more accurate. That it is not perfect he is only too conscious, but where is to be found a perfect Catalogue of any Library? Such as it is he sends it forth to the gentle criticism of all fellow book-lovers, who, when finding themselves in a Library, whether new or old, will echo the closing words of his former preface :

In tali nunquam lassat venatio silva.

REGINALD S. FABER.

The Library at present contains nine hundred and eighty-three works in one thousand and eighty-four volumes; also seventy tracts not yet bound. Dec. 1, 1890.
